

Q1 What level of awareness and understanding do you think SME contractors have of the low carbon agenda?

Q2 How important, if at all, would it be to you that the SME builder you employed could officially certify that they were trained to carry out the specific type of work you wanted done?

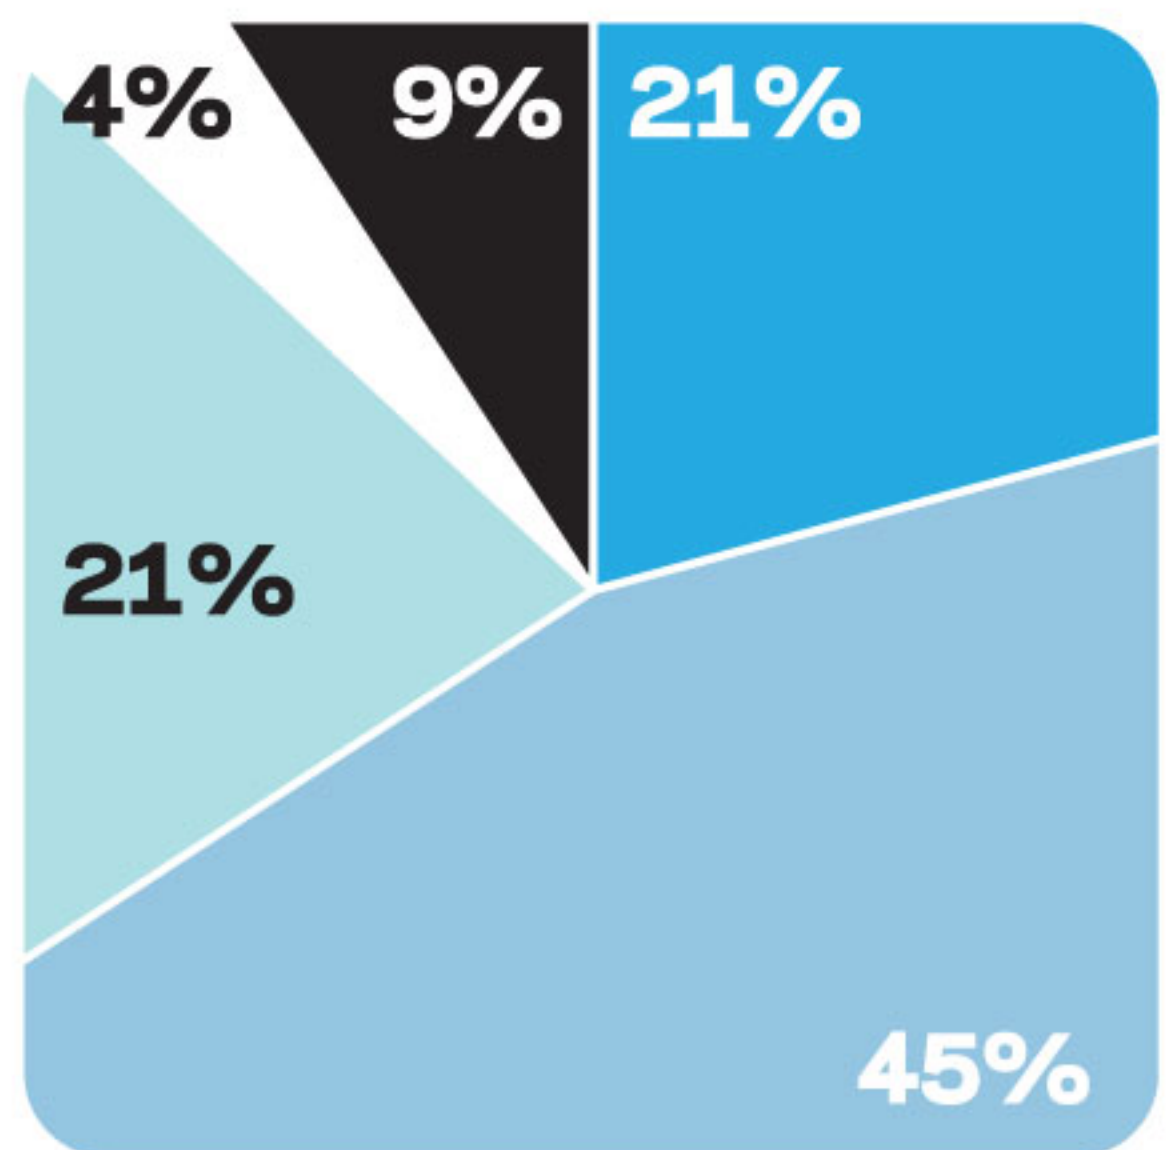

Q3 To what extent do you take into account the low carbon capabilities of SMEs bidding for construction work?

- It is an essential requirement for all work
- It is a key consideration and frequently influences decisions
- It is sometimes taken into account
- It is rarely taken into account
- It doesn't influence procurement decisions at all

Q4 How actively do you think SME contractors are driving the low carbon agenda?

- Very actively (0%)
- Quite actively
- Not very actively
- Not actively at all
- They are obstructing the agenda
- Don't know